

News /Local

Yemeni Ministry of Culture mourns the death of artist “Ali Anba” in a Cairo hospital

Saturday, 11 October 2025 8 months ago

Bran Press:

Artist “Ali Anba” dies in a Cairo hospital (Bran Press)

The Ministry of Culture in the recognized Yemeni government mourned the popular artist Ali Anba, who passed away on Saturday, October 11, following complications of a sugar attack, which ended with the cessation of his heart, in a hospital in the Egyptian capital Cairo.

The ministry said, in a statement of obituary, published by the Yemeni news agency Saba (official), that the artist

"Anba", began learning to play the oud early, at the age of six, where he began his artistic career by playing alongside the most famous Yemeni artists, including Ahmed Al-Harazi, and the late artist Ali Al-Dharhani.

She said that he founded a popular artistic band with his brothers Bassam and Yahya Anba, and participated in many festivals and concerts in the Gulf and Europe, pointing out that he has achieved many great artistic fame over 40 years, and presented a group of famous songs, including Bab Al-Mahba, Ya Hajri, Laila Khamis, Tab Al-Samar, and Aziz Al-Safeh, and God, our neighbor's daughter.

The statement of the Ministry of Culture expressed its sincere condolences and sincere condolences for this painful injury, asking Allah the Almighty to extend His mercy, and to inspire patience and consolation to His children and other loved ones, and that Allah and His Lordship will return.

At dawn on Saturday, the popular artist "Ali Anba" died inside a Cairo hospital, after a sudden health crisis he suffered during the past hours, after suffering from complications of a severe sugar attack, which led to the cessation of his heart, and his death quickly.

According to Egyptian media, citing sources in his family, the health condition of the late artist had deteriorated since last September, as he was admitted to the hospital for treatment after a significant decline in his health, before he died at dawn today.

His brother announced the news of the death through his Facebook page, saying: "God's mercy is clouded by my brother Ali, we left today brother and support, thank God anyway, and we are for God and we are for him back."